

PASSING OF THE HOLE-IN-THE-WALL

Rendezvous For Outlaws Is to Be Wiped Out.

FARMERS REPLACE BANDITS

NARROW, ROCKY PASS WILL BE TORN AWAY BY DYNAMITE.

The advancing tide of civilization and improvement that sweeps all barriers before it has turned its course toward the heretofore impregnable "Hole-in-the-Wall" country, that for years past has been the stronghold and plotting chamber of all the blood-thirsty bandits of the west, and if the dispatches from Cheyenne are indicative of anything, it is but a question of a short time when the mountain-indebted owner of blood and carnage will give place to flourishing farms and well-stocked ranches.

The dreaded hole, with its narrow sand-rock entrance that has stood for years the symbol of death and plunder, will be but a memory, but a dark page in the history of Utah and Wyoming. Civilization, with the powerful agency of dynamite in its hand, is to rend the rock-bound pass into fragments, to make way for a county road, and Hawk's ranch, the rendezvous of outlaws, where they gathered to plot their depredations, and assembled after them to count the spoils, is to harbor a postoffice, for the benefit of peaceful settlers who have already begun to flock into the rich valley in such numbers as to warrant the establishment of a mail station.

To Widen the Pass.

A dispatch from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: "The pass to the 'Hole-in-the-Wall' lies directly in the path of a county road that is being opened into the rich valley inside, and dynamite is to be used to make the rocky pass wide enough for a road. A communication has also been sent to the postoffice department asking for the establishment of a postoffice at Hawk's ranch, which is in the very center of the hole. People have been flocking into the valley, and are present there their spoils until they were forced to move them on into the "Hole-in-the-Wall" to prevent capture.

Cassidy, with a big price on his head, is still at large. All efforts on the part of the officers to capture him having failed, he is being hunted by the failure of the officers, he has been known to rally from his stronghold and drink and carouse with men in the little towns surrounding it. It is declared that he has even visited Salt Lake in disguise, but this is doubted. He is now supposed to be in Nevada.

Other Noted Outlaws.

Among the other noted outlaws who have made the "Hole-in-the-Wall" a synonym for outrage and plunder are "Dutch Buck" and "Big Face Kid." The former is supposed to have been connected with the Northern Pacific holdup and is still at large. It is said of him that he fought with his back to the wall, asking and giving no quarter. "Big Face Kid" is supposed to have conducted several train robberies and he, too, is still at large.

Deputy Bush believes that if the "Hole-in-the-Wall" is opened up to civilization these notorious men will make their headquarters in the "Robbers' Roost" region.

"I have had intimations before," said Bush, "that a road was to be opened into that country, and I am glad to hear that it is being done. When it is done it will convert a hole of assassination and murder into a rich farming region. There is plenty of rich ground there that will make splendid farms and ranches. But if this is done believe these desperate men will move their headquarters to the 'Robbers' Roost' country."

HERBINE should be used to enrich and purify the blood; it cures all forms of blood disorders, is especially useful in fevers, skin eruptions, boils, pimples, blackheads, scrofula, salt rheum and every form of blood impurity; it is a safe and effectual cure. Price, 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

SAY SALOONS WERE WIDE OPEN

Ministers Declare the Sunday Law Was Violated.

ASK MAYOR TO EXPLAIN

SOME PASTORS DECLARE HIS COURSE AN INSULT.

The Sunday closing of saloons was the important topic considered by the Ministerial alliance yesterday morning. As a result of the meeting, Mayor Thompson will probably receive a call this week from the public morals committee and the Reform league and will be asked to explain why certain saloons which the ministers claim were open last Sunday were allowed to violate the law. The ministers hold that Mayor Thompson was elected upon a platform calling for the absolute closing of saloons on Sunday and in plain language they declared it an insult to the pulpit and public not to enforce the ordinance.

Front Doors Open.

The matter was brought to the attention of the ministers by a prominent member of the alliance, who declared he knew of several saloons that were open last Sunday. Among them he mentioned the Zang, which he said had its back doors open. He further declared that no less than seven men had been seen to enter the resort within the brief time of two minutes. The lights in this place, he claimed, were not only open, but had its front doors unlocked, so that those who desired might enter there under the very eyes of the law. The lights in this place, he claimed, were not only open, but had its front doors unlocked, so that those who desired might enter there under the very eyes of the law. The lights in this place, he claimed, were not only open, but had its front doors unlocked, so that those who desired might enter there under the very eyes of the law.

Will Ask an Explanation.

These matters brought up a discussion of the state of affairs, in which was set forth by the ministers that Mayor Thompson had been elected upon a platform calling for the strict closing of saloons upon Sunday, and one member stated that his failure to do it, now that election was over, would be an insult to pulpit and public. It was unanimously decided to have the committee on public morals and the Reform league visit the mayor at an early date and ask him for an explanation.

During the meeting a short address was given on Mormon missionary work in Japan by J. D. Johnson, a Sunday school missionary of the Baptist church. The speaker had private letters stating that up to date the efforts of Apostle Grant and his associates to obtain permission to preach in Japan had been unavailing, and that their work had been productive of no results. The author of the letters stated that he knew of no converts to Mormonism.

KEITH TO BUILD SOON.

Tearing Down of Walker House to Begin at Once.

The first tangible indication of David Keith's determination to erect a skyscraper fireproof store and office building on the site of the Walker House and the three stores to the south was revealed at the city council last evening. H. G. McMillan applied for the privilege to be granted to Mr. Keith to enclose the sidewalk with an eight-foot board fence around the large hotel building and making the site for the splendid new structure ready for construction work. The petitioner offered to build a temporary board walk outside of the curb so as to make it safe for pedestrians passing the property.

Councilman Thomas stated in presenting the petition that Mr. Keith intended to make the new building an eight-story block and that he wanted to get started on the work of clearing the site at once. Under suspension of the rules the petition was granted.
